Roman Charioteers Ride In Kin Parade Tonight

Chariots from ancient Rome and chuck wagons from Calgary will sweep through the streets of Kelowna today at 6 p.m. to mark the opening of the 33rd annual convention of the Kinsmen Association.

More than 900 Kinsmen are taking part in the parade, which will be one of the biggest ever seen in Kelowna. Each Kinsmen Club, accompanied by its Kinettes, will parade in different uniforms, and some 70 entries are to take part in the hour-long show. The clubs represented come from as far apart as Cornerbrook, Newfoundland and Victoria.

Also attending the convention are members of the World Council of Young Men's Association, to which the Kinsmen are affiliated—who have travelled from Australia, England and United States to be present at the convention.

PARADE ROUTE
The parade starts at the City Park entrance, and winds up Bernard Avenue to Richter, down Doyle to the Memorial Arena.

Police stated that charges will be laid.

VOTERS TO POLLS MONDAY

Leaders Narrow Issues As B.C. Election Nears

VANCOUVER (CP)—With only four days of campaigning left and four parties competing for power, political leaders sought to narrow the issues Wednesday night in British Columbia's Sept. 12 election.

Election of either a Social Credit or CCF government would be "disastrous," said Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson.

The CCF public development program is designed to supplement rather than to replace private enterprise, said national CCF leader Hazen Argue, who joined the battle this week.

Liberal leader Ray Perrault said his party is the logical one for 70 per cent of voters who oppose both CCF and Social Credit.

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said the Social Credit government is one of reform while the CCF licence and highway contract party is "going along the same systems it elected."

road as the Labor party in the United Kingdom—the road to oblivion."

MAKES HOUSE CALLS
Mr. Finlayson, who has been concentrating on house-to-house canvassing for the last week, returned to the platform in downtown Vancouver with attacks on the Social Credit party's ingratitude for federal aid and the labor-CCF "shotgun marriage."

He also said the Liberal party's proposal to transfer school costs from municipal taxpayers to provincial revenues is one proposed two years ago by the Progressive Conservatives.

B.C. CCF leader Robert Strachan meanwhile promised in a Vancouver speech the party would conduct inquiries into the Social Credit government's forest licence and highway contract.

And honorary national CCF leader M. J. Coldwell told a Vancouver meeting he has found an atmosphere in B.C. similar to that which preceded election of Saskatchewan's CCF government in 1944.

Labor Minister Wicks said at suburban Port Coquitlam the CCF no longer is "the threat it once was."

He said Social Credit has given B.C. increased old-age assistance, real estate health insurance and "the best labor relations act in Canada." These were "more reforms than the CCF dreamed possible."

Premier W. A. C. Bennett returns to the hustings tonight at Penticton to make his last major speech before returning to Kelowna to complete his home-riding campaign and wait for the voters' verdict.

Police Pressing Search For Clues In Slaying

VERNON — RCMP investigators into the sex-slaying of 11-year-old Donald Oliver went into another day of exhaustive clue-seeking and identification parades today.

Sgt. Frank Regan, in charge of Vernon RCMP detachment, said tracker dogs are still being used in efforts to uncover important clues.

He issued a widespread appeal asking for tourists who had picnicked in Vernon's Polson Park between 3 p.m. and darkness Sept. 2 to contact Vernon police if they had seen a boy selling newspapers.

Meanwhile, a citizens' committee seeking a meeting with city council on search methods used, withdrew its request Wednesday night, and tabled protests in letter-form for presentation to Mayor Frank Becker today.

The letter is believed to contain sharp criticisms on RCMP's delay in organizing a search, and includes several suggestions to eliminate any repeat of Labor Day weekend happenings.

Mayor Becker was unavailable for comment.

"NO RELUCTANCE"
There was "no reluctance" on the part of RCMP to call out volunteer searchers, Sgt. Regan told a local organization Wednesday night.

"But we can't cry wolf too often," he told members of Vernon Fish and Game Club.

A week ago, Vernon Fish and Game Club announced it was prepared to search for missing persons.

Last night they asked the RCMP sergeant why they hadn't been asked to help look for the Oliver boy.

He reported missing at about 8 p.m. Friday, was found by a volunteer committee at about 8:45 a.m. Monday. Corner J. E. Harvey said an autopsy revealed the boy had eaten a meal about an hour before his death, supposed to have taken place between 6 and 7 p.m. Friday. Dr. Harvey added it was difficult to judge the time positively after a lapse of 48 hours.

Sixty hours after Donald's parents reported him missing, a citizens' search committee took the initiative. Under the leadership of Ron Gilbert, the group, mostly service club members, found the boy's body, an hour and a half after their search began.

The Fish and Game crew, according to Sgt. Regan, was not called out immediately since police believed they had "some promising information" concerning the boy's disappearance. It was also thought the crew was formed primarily for rural searches, such as guests for missing hunters. "The boy was missing from the main street of town," Sgt. Regan said.

BETTER STATEMENT
However, the game club members reiterated a statement of a week ago that they would search for "any missing person". The resolution declared the team "would cooperate fully with the police under their direction." It noted also that "we expect cooperation of the police," this being immediate notification.

Sgt. Regan told the gathering there was no specified waiting time before a civilian search group is called out. "It depends on circumstances."

In Donald's case, he said, "it didn't occur to me the Fish and Game team was the one to call upon right away."

A club member contended 60 hours was "far too long to have left that boy out without an organized search."

If searches proved futile or unnecessary, "saving one life would be sufficient reward," said Ed Hornell, meeting chairman.

The club will ask police to set a definite waiting period of about three hours or less.

Bishop Beattie's Condition Unchanged
At noon today Rt. Rev. R. Beattie, Lord Bishop of Kootenai, was resting quietly in Kelowna General Hospital following a restful night. No change in his condition was reported.

Coast Tory Asks Probe Of Voter List "Padding"

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Progressive Conservative candidate said Wednesday night he will make application in Supreme Court here for an investigation into possible padding of the voters lists in Vancouver Centre constituency.

He also said in one poll with 587 voters registered, 325 are not known at the registered address, are dead or are non-existent.

Lawyer Larry Eckhardt, Mr. Reid's running mate in the two seat riding, said he is seeking a court order.

Patrick Reid said at a Sept. 12 election meeting an investigation of 10 polls revealed 31 voters registered in a parking lot, 11 at a filling station, 233 at a hotel, 14 in a church basement, and 12 legitimate voters registered more than once.

A Supreme Court judge will be asked to order a public review of all enumeration cards and the method by which the names were recorded.

DELEGATES CHOSEN
W. B. Hughes-Games will represent Kelowna at the Canadian Chamber of Commerce annual meeting in Calgary Oct. 3 to 5.

Fred J. Bentley, manager of the Kelowna Board of Trade, will also be attending, as will executive members of the board yet to be named.

Absentees will also be able to vote at any polling station Monday, but must swear an affidavit that they are registered. These votes will be returned to the ridings concerned before the official count and a check made on registration of the voters.

Slide Snuffs Out Lives Of 3 Workers
McBRIDE, B.C. (CP)—A rain-soaked hillside caved in on a highway project Wednesday near this Cariboo community, killing three men working some 150 feet below.

"There was only a split-second warning when the slide started," said Mike Mynio, 24, of McBride, one of two men who escaped, "and I just happened to jump the right way."

Buried in the slide were Allen Freear, about 50, his 22-year-old son Allen Jr., both of McBride, and Francis Fred Lee, 48, of Prince George.

John Krahn, 22, of Abbotsford, B.C., was taken to hospital but his condition was not serious. About 15 other members of the highway crew, working 19 miles west of here, were not endangered.

The slide, between 60 and 100 feet wide and up to 30 feet deep, swallowed up three of the workers while tossing Krahn clear.

"One of the men who disappeared was right beside me," Mynio said in a telephone interview. "I was pretty scared and all I could think of was to get away."

"It happened as quick as lightning," said Mynio. "I just shouted like heck, took a couple of big leaps and just made it."

"The slide went right by me a couple of feet away. It was 10 feet high. I was so shocked I couldn't even stand on my feet. I had to sit down for a while because I was shaking."

RUSH ON FOOD SUPPLIES AS HURRICANE HEADS FOR FLORIDA
MIAMI (AP)—The critical hours of southeast Florida's watch on hurricane Donna drew near today as the tropical storm moved across the Bahamas and toward this resort area.

The hurricane, with 150 mile-an-hour winds reaching out 140 miles from its centre, was 380 miles east-southeast of Miami early today.

The word sent mobs of men and women scurrying to lumberyards, supermarkets and insurance agencies. Long lines were reported as people stocked up on canned goods, distilled water, candles and flashlight batteries. Lumberyards reported the heaviest run on plywood sheeting for hurricane shutters, in years.

Raging seas were building up in the Bahamas.

EMBARRASSING FOR OTTAWA
WASHINGTON (CP)—United States authorities are gradually losing hope of cementing a multi-million-dollar military plane swap with Canada. They emphasize there will be no big cargo plane purchases in Canada if the deal doesn't go through.

In fact, some U.S. officials are impatiently muttering that the proposed deal, involving Canadian-made CL-44 cargo planes and U.S.-made F-101 Voodoo jet fighters, is heading towards a scrap heap because of Canadian coolness to the plan.

The embarrassment for certain Canadian officials here is that they have been repeatedly pleading for production-sharing contracts at the U.S. defence department and now are confronted with a case where the U.S. is willing and Canada less so.

Wants Forces Out Immediately

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (Reuters)—Premier Patrice Lumumba called tonight for the immediate withdrawal of all United Nations troops from the Congo.

Lumumba issued the demand shortly after winning a vote in the Senate of 41 votes to two.

He said after the vote: "We must ask for the immediate withdrawal of all United Nations troops from the Congo."

He said after the vote: "We must ask for the immediate withdrawal of all United Nations troops from the Congo."

He said the UN had "militarily occupied" the country, seizing airports and the radio station.

He said he would continue to ask for technical co-operation and assistance.

Earlier, the Congo government accused the UN of interfering in Lumumba's conflict with President Joseph Kasavubu and warned of "important decisions" to be taken tonight on relations with the UN.

The accusations came in a communique as troops and police patrolled the streets of this uneasy capital and Lumumba and Kasavubu continued their behind-the-scenes struggle for power.

The Senate today refused to allow Lumumba to address it until Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko had spoken.

But Bomboko, one of the signers of Kasavubu's declaration ousting Lumumba as premier, has disappeared after escaping a police attempt to arrest him in a hotel this morning.

Foreign ministry sources said Bomboko also had been dismissed from his cabinet post.

The government issued its communique attacking the UN troops while troops and police patrolled the streets of this uneasy capital and Lumumba and Kasavubu continued their behind-the-scenes struggle for power.

It said the Congolese government "notes with astonishment" the interference of the United Nations in the conflict between the head of state and the government of the republic.

Lumumba already has protested to the UN against the closing of Congolese airports and the shutdown of Leopoldville radio.

Municipal Clerk Fired Amid Uproar At Delta

LADNER, B.C. (CP)—Veteran municipal clerk Ernie Chapman was fired by Delta's municipal council Wednesday night in a meeting marked by angry exchanges among councillors and luster boiling from a crowd of about 60 spectators in the jammed council chambers.

The spectators applauded the clerk as he left the chamber after three councillors and Reeve Clarence Taylor voted for his immediate dismissal. Three other councillors voted against it, accusing the others of "railroading" the clerk.

Councillor Carl Liden, who moved that Chapman be dismissed for inefficiency, told the meeting: "The reeve charged the clerk is not capable of doing his job. I go along with that. I've taken the trouble to watch the agenda carefully."

Chapman himself read a statement replying specifically to charges of inability to carry out orders, failure to deal with certain correspondence, failure to cooperate with other department heads and failure to turn over a cheque to the comptroller-general for deposit.

He said he feels his answer to the accusations "completely exonerates my position on each charge."

"I never heard of such railroading," said Councillor Harold Savage, after the clerk was dismissed.

A motion by the three dissenting councillors to have the municipal affairs department of B.C. conduct a public inquiry into Delta's affairs was tabled, amid protests from the spectators.

However, it appeared possible the municipal affairs inspector would step in. Officials of the Ladner and District Ratepayers Association were to meet today to consider asking for a public inquiry, and all three dissenting councillors said after the meeting they would make individual requests for an inquiry.

1300 DELEGATES

Kinsmen Parley Underway

Thirteen hundred Kinsmen and Kinettes from communities as far apart as Cornerbrook, Nfld. and Victoria, B.C. opened their annual convention here today.

A service of dedication in the Kelowna Memorial Arena preceded the business sessions which will be presided over by the outgoing national president, Dr. Arthur Schwartz of Winnipeg.

The delegates from the National Association of Kinsmen Clubs and Kinettes from communities as far apart as Cornerbrook, Nfld. and Victoria, B.C. opened their annual convention here today.

Valley centre garbed in a variety of costumes and bearing properties ranging from 25 horses of the Calgary Club to Roman chariots used by the Saskatoon club.

The morning dedication service was conducted by Charles Bruce of the host Kelowna Club with special music by the Kinette choir directed by Mrs. Phyllis Hill, L.R.A.M.

Mr. Bruce pointed to the role played by the Kinsmen organization in bettering understanding on a national and international basis and dedicated the convention deliberations to that end. Men are prone to good or evil, he said, urging the Kin organization to utilize its powers on the side of sanity and good in a troubled world.

The choir opened the service with the Kin hymn, Bless Be The Tie That Binds and also sang Ave Maria, Balm in Gilead and The Lord's Prayer.

At the conclusion of the brief service the delegates filed into the arena meeting room for the first business session of the three-day meeting.

For the next three days the delegates will consider business matters and balance the serious with a variety of social and general hi-jinks. Highlighting the latter will be a parade this evening with all delegates participating in their costumes.

Kin officials said this morning the parade was expected to take over an hour to pass any given point and guaranteed fun and color. A marine dinner, pancake supper and miniature water show are also on the convention agenda.

The meeting will conclude Saturday with the election of a national vice-president who will take office next September as president of the service club. Three candidates are in the running and electioneering by their supporters commenced as soon as they set foot in Kelowna. The candidates are Ed Turner of British Columbia, Bob Casey, Saskatchewan and Bill Pearson of Ottawa.

An all-Maritime executive headed by Dick Miller of Moncton, N.B. will take office at the end of the current convention for 1960-61. Mr. Miller was elected vice-president at the 1959 annual in St. Andrews, N.B. and automatically steps into the presidency at the end of the current business sessions.

Meeting Tonight For BCFGA Local

Industry election procedure will be discussed by the BCFGA meeting tonight in the Oliver Elks' Hall at 8 o'clock.

Other topics on the agenda are quality control—What it is; why it is necessary and how it will be operated; and new business.

Guest speakers will be T. S. Towgood, chairman election procedure committee, and members of the production staff of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

Two other meetings are slated for the near future. The Kere-mos-Cawston local will meet in the Women's Institute room, Victory Hall, Kere-mos at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 13 to discuss election procedure committee majority and minority reports.

A combined meeting of the Pentleton-Naramata and Kaledon-Okanagan Falls locals BCFGA will be held in the Prince Charles Motor Inn on Friday, Sept. 16 at 7:30 p.m. The majority and minority reports of the election procedure committee will be discussed at this combined meeting.

Four-Party Forum In Oyama Area Hears Labor Support For CCF

OYAMA—Local political meetings, with the Sept. 12 provincial election as the focal point, came to a climax here recently when a four-party forum was held in the Community Hall.

More than 70 constituents were on hand for the four-party forum which was sponsored by the Oyama local of the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union.

Business agent Jim Currie of Summerland introduced the four candidates seeking election and read a letter from Hon. Hugh Shantz, speaker of the Legislative Assembly and Social Credit member for North Okanagan, explaining why Mr. Shantz was unable to attend.

John Kosty, Conservative, who dealt with but a few of the items on his many-planked platform, was the first to speak.

Concentrating on agriculture, Mr. Kosty offered to ease farm taxation, to renovate the Milk Act, and to suggest legislative action to curb the use of farm products as loss leaders.

At one point in his address, he said people should throw out the Coke machines and make nourishing milk available to all students in schools.

Mr. Kosty also explained his party's views on the controversial logging conditions and the Columbia River power development. The Conservative candidate said he was also opposed to Bill 43.

Jack Davis' address dealt with the province's unemployment problem.

He also urged the creation of more export markets for B.C. goods and the expanding of the home market by offering a better quality produce.

Bill 43 "ADVANTAGEOUS" The Liberal candidate agreed Bill 43 was controversial but thought the effect had been advantageous for all concerned.

Mr. Davis advocated the development of Mica Creek power and warned North Okanagan constituents that while the CCF had a degree of success in Saskatchewan it did not mean their policies could be applied here. The province, he noted, was much larger both in population and in industry, which he described as being more "diversified."

COMMUNISTIC THEME Communist Nick Klim used as his theme, "let's defeat Bureaucracy" and suggested many ways such might be done.

He said he would begin his program by eliminating Bills 43 and 123, nationalizing all public utilities and removing of sales tax.

He stated the tax load in B.C. was "unbearable," that graft and corruption were rampant and that Social Credit was conspiring with Tories in Ottawa. He further asked U.S. military installations be removed and that Canada should cancel all alliances—citing as an example NATO.

He predicted should his party be elected it would immediately create 75,000 jobs in B.C.

ORGANIZE FARMERS Mrs. Isobell Potthecary, the first resident of Oyama ever to seek a seat in the Legislative Assembly, described the CCF party as a friend of the working people and suggested farmers, who are working men, should be better organized.

She also suggested a local of the Farmers' Union was "long overdue" in the district. The CCF standard-bearer, one of 13 representing different parties in the election, said her party, if elected, would deal with Bill 43 which she described as unduly restrictive and harmful. She also advocated a halt to the "giveaway" of the province's natural resources.

Mrs. Potthecary also spoke on a CCF plan to reduce taxation, take over insurance and implement a province-wide health plan.

Following the question period, Tom Goyderham, regional director of the CLC, said he could not help but speak in support of the CCF.

His comment brought an immediate objection from Mr. Davis who said he was "being outmaneuvered."

Central Sorting Plan For Golden Delicious

This year all the Golden Delicious apples grown in the Okanagan, some 25,000 boxes of them, will be brought to a central point to be sorted and packed under the supervision of B.C. Tree Fruits production department.

The move is the result of a resolution passed at the 1960 British Columbia Fruit Growers Association convention to give the variety the special treatment which it needs and deserves.

One of the reasons Golden Delicious have not received that special handling in the past is that no one packing house had a quantity great enough to justify special equipment.

Now with sufficient volume, and uniform supervision to ensure a uniform pack, the variety will, for the first time, be given its chance to compete on an equal basis with Golden from other producing areas.

The sales agency has reminded local growers the Golden Delicious apple that is capable of earning a premium is the one that is a full rich golden color, and is free of picking and handling bruises.

It further emphasizes that on the luxury markets, which are willing to pay a premium for a superior article, green and white Golden Delicious, and those with blemishes, are treated as just ordinary apples.

Growers are urged to leave their Golden on the trees until as many as possible attain the golden color which denotes proper finish. In the majority of

Kinsmen Should Be Proud Of Long Record Of Service

Kelowna is happy and proud today to welcome the delegates to the national convention of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs being held here from today until Saturday. The near-1,500 delegates form one of the larger conventions to be held in the Okanagan and they represent an organization which has a long record of effective service behind it.

The high ideals and challenging objectives of Kinsmanship are clearly defined in the Association's constitution in these words: "The object of this Association shall be to promote and direct fellowship among young men of good character within Canada to the end: (1) that they may be improved and educated in modern business and professional methods and ethics; (2) that the interest of each in the welfare of his community may be stimulated; (3) that constitutional authority may be upheld; (4) that a spirit of co-operation, tolerance, understanding and equality between all nations and all peoples be fostered and stimulated and that unity of thought and purpose throughout Canada be established towards this goal; (5) that they shall carry on service work within their community.

The organization motivated by these high ideals was born in Hamilton, Ontario, in 1920. It came about through the urgent desire of a young man, just returned from the trenches of the First World War, for the friendship of his fellows. Encouraged by his father, a prominent Rotarian, he got together a few young men of his own age and organized a dinner meeting. From that meeting the first Kinsmen club was formed and from that meeting grew the present Canadian organization of 12,000 young men (active membership ends at age 40) in 360 clubs.

That first meeting in Hamilton was a purely friendship affair but as the meeting continued, it was found that talk was not enough. These young Canadians wanted some useful outlet for their energies. In a time when the League of Nations was the hope of future peace, these young men looked ahead to write into their own laws a fostering of a spirit of co-operation, tolerance, understanding and equality between all men. In a century when Canadian unity has been loudly proclaimed as practically non-existent, the Kinsmen-Association bound its members together into a group unified in thought and purpose.

Helping underprivileged children in some form or other was among the first undertakings. Soapbox derbies were held to raise money to enable sick children to receive special medical care. Christmas hampers were donated to families often overlooked by other organizations. In the thirties rinks and playgrounds were established to enable children and adults to enjoy free entertainment.

With the outbreak of war, the Kinsmen set up a war services committee which organized the "Milk for Britain" fund. Originally it was planned to send a million quarts of milk to succor British children, but with their usual energy the Kinsmen far surpassed this objective and raised enough money to send over 50 million quarts in four years.

In 1945 the 60-odd B.C. clubs undertook the sponsorship of the "Fight Polio" campaign. Part of this was the annual Kinette "Mothers' March." After the discovery of Salk vaccine, the need to fight polio changed and the appeal became "The B.C. Child Care and Polio Fund," designed to provide an enlarged program of rehabilitation in the major fields of polio and child care. Today the annual contributions to the child care plan amount to over $275,000.

Obviously Kin is not merely a dinner club, for entertainment and good fellowship. True it is that enduring friendships and good fellowship result from the meetings, but this is considered not merely as an end in itself but rather a means to the worthy end of service. Kin is not a secret society with pass words, grips, signs and ritual. The fraternal spirit however is assured in the intimate fellowship of its members. It is not a chamber of commerce nor is it the duplication of any other community group. It has objects and objectives of its own.

The Association of Kinsmen Clubs is a purely Canadian organization composed of groups of young Canadians in clubs from coast to coast. It has in its forty years created an enviable record of service both to its communities and in the national sphere. While its service activities have been many, perhaps its most important contribution has been the development of young men fitting them to take their places in Canadian economic, cultural and political life.

Kelowna is proud and happy to welcome Kinsmen and their Kinettes. Its people trust they will find the city and its facilities quite in keeping with the importance of the meeting. They trust the business affairs will be speedily resolved and that Kinsmen and Kinettes may have three days of rewarding relaxation.

Your Patience, Please

Our little businessmen have been caught in the squeeze. Twenty-nine of them. All because of the swing shift at school.

When one starts something, one never knows just when it will stop and what and whom may be affected. In this case, the school authorities, when they arranged their schedules, probably did not realize that they were jeopardizing the jobs of 29 of their pupils.

The swing shift was the cause of the trouble. It so happened that included in the shift which starts at noon and runs till five p.m. were a number of Courier carrier boys.

The shifts were necessary because the Dr. Knox High School was not built when school opened. It will, in fact, be another three months before it can be occupied.

One of the unfortunate results is that the boys will not be able to deliver their papers until late afternoon. At first our circulation department felt that a new group of boys, not on the afternoon school shift, would have to be taken on and the current group dismissed. However, the boys on the whole are a pretty reliable group and, in addition, it seemed a little unfair that they should be penalized because the building of their school had been delayed.

So we decided to try an experiment which can only be successful with the co-operation of our subscribers. The boys have been shifted until as far as possible the boy lives in the area where he will deliver papers. Then, too, we have arranged to have the papers dropped at the boy's home to save him time. Through these two changes we believe that all subscribers will receive their papers shortly after five-thirty. Not early enough, but the best that can be done, using the same boys.

We ask the co-operation of our readers. We are not happy about the arrangement but hope that it can be used until the first of the year when, we understand, the swing shift will be over. At that time we will return to the normal early delivery.

So, please, if your paper is a little later than normal, be a little patient. It is not the boy's fault; neither is it ours, nor the school authorities'. Perhaps, three months will slip by quickly and normal delivery return more quickly than now thought possible.

Thanks, for your patience and your co-operation.

Kennedy Very Seldom Speaks Of His Running Mate Johnson

By JACK BELL

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — While Senator Kennedy campaigns in the Pacific Northwest states, the almost unmentioned man is his running mate, Senator Johnson.

The voters of Washington, Oregon and Idaho—as well as those in Maine, Alaska and Michigan—who have heard the presidential nominee speak in the last five days could be excused if they thought Kennedy was running alone for the Democratic party.

In sharp contrast to the tactics of his Republican rival, Vice-President Nixon, Kennedy is travelling swiftly and alone in his drive for election.

At almost every opportunity when he is campaigning, Nixon brings up the name of Henry Cabot Lodge, the other vice-presidential nominee. He praises Lodge's accomplishments as former ambassador at the United Nations.

BLAMES HIRE'S VETO But in six states Kennedy has scarcely mentioned Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader. When he talks about the failure of the summer session of Congress to pass the kind of legislation he wanted, he blames the threats of President Eisenhower's veto and Republican opponents for the outcome. The Democratic nominee doesn't even mention Johnson.

In Kennedy's case this is an unusual and not a personal decision. It seems rather obvious that the Democratic high command has decided that the less interest in advancing the civil rights of Negroes is something of a political liability. Some southern politicians feel Johnson, probably the most influential senator from their area, can be counted on to modify Kennedy's enthusiasm on the issue.

WILL CHANGE IN SOUTH All this will change, of course, when Kennedy and Johnson team up for campaigning in Texas next Monday and Tuesday. There, and elsewhere in southern areas the vice-presidential nominee is likely to be co-starred with the head of the ticket.

The reason for the switch will be that in the South Kennedy's

OTTAWA REPORT

Pearson Seeks New Ideas

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

History is repeating itself in this week's meeting of more than 200 "liberal-minded people" being held at Kingston, Ontario.

Twenty-seven years ago, on September 4, 1933, the then president of the National Liberal Federation, Mr. Vincent Massey—better known as our recent Governor General—presided over a gathering of more than 300 "liberal-minded men and women of all political parties from all parts of Canada," held at Fort Hope, Ontario.

The Liberal leader at that time, W. L. Mackenzie King, who was also leader of the Opposition in our House of Commons, pointed out in his closing speech that the meeting had reviewed and discussed the most important problems of the day facing Canada. The long list of problems was headed by "Unemployment, Trade and Tariffs."

IT MIGHT BE TODAY The key figure at this week's conference is again the Liberal leader, who again is also the leader of the Opposition in our House of Commons.

In his closing speech to the conference, he could use Mr. Mackenzie King's speech of 27 years ago almost word for word in that section describing how the conference has studied the most important problems of the day facing Canada.

The long list has changed little except by additions created by changed world conditions; the three most urgent are still "Unemployment, Trade and Tariffs."

The cynic might point out that Mackenzie King and his successor, Louis St. Laurent, were at the helm for 22 of the intervening 27 years; and ask, "Is that all the advance we could make while marching for 22 years along 'The Liberal Way'?"

Today's course the Hon. Lester B. ("Mike") Pearson stands where Mackenzie King stood at Fort Hope; the country's top Liberal. He told me that he hopes this meeting will generate ideas which will be helpful in deciding the policy of the Liberal Party.

"We want some good new ideas," he told me.

Like its predecessor at Fort Hope, this week's conference of "liberal-minded Canadians" is intended as a rally to strengthen the defunct and disorganized Liberal Party, although it carefully avoids the party label.

Like the "Liberal rally" to be held in Ottawa next January, it was planned more than a year ago. The timing was no accident. The Liberal party had lost 735,

000 actual or potential supporters at the polls over the previous ten years. It was fighting to re-coral and revitalize its former strength which had dispersed to left, to right or to apathy, but chiefly to "Follow John."

Most important, the Liberals were fighting for their very existence against the threat that the "new party" might climb over the Liberal ruin to become one of Canada's big two parties.

The Port Hope conference was followed by a victory at the polls two years later. Its pattern is being faithfully followed this year in many ways. This tribute to its success is notable in the make-up of the conference's organizing committee.

In 1933 that committee included five past or future Liberal cabinet ministers, of whom the most durable has proved to be Paul Martin, as well as future senators and premiers.

The Press was represented by J. W. Dafoe of the Winnipeg Free Press, and J. E. Atkinson of the Toronto Star; and Floyd Chalmers of the Financial Post told the meeting that he was "the hyphen in the political tag Liberal-Conservative."

A certain Professor Ken Taylor of McMaster University spoke on "The Problem of the Budget"; today as deputy minister of finance in Ottawa he has a closer interest in that now larger problem.

So too this week's organizing committee contains press and brains as well as Liberal party members; it includes some prominent men whom Liberal strategists frankly hope to see run as candidates in the next election. Some of whom are outstandingly of cabinet calibre.

Canucks In Congo Have Army's "Best Scrounger"

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congolese guard in pairs at almost every (CP)—Canadian signalmen in the Congo should be among the best fed, entertained and lodged soldiers in the army.

They've got the best scrounger in the Canadian Army looking after them.

He is Capt. Mike Kedziora of Oromocto, N.B., a big, bluff happy-go-lucky character who has the reputation of being the best messing, or food services officer, in the army.

Nothing impresses him or stops him when he's out scrounging food for his boys.

He privately enjoys his army buddies' description of him, but doesn't openly own up to it.

ACQUISITIONS ONLY

"You don't scrounge," he said, making a subtle distinction. "You just acquire things."

Mike, who joined the army's contingent in the Congo from Camp Gagetown, N.B., arrived in Leopoldville 10 days after the first flight.

The first day he had a look around town, running an expert eye over available sources of supplies. The next morning he went out to look for beer to open a canteen for the men.

Mike and his jeep driver didn't know where the brewery was. So he asked a Congolese civilian lounging around a downtown street corner where he could get beer. Mike doesn't speak French and the Congolese spoke no English.

"I just hauled him into the jeep and said 'show me' in sign language," the 240-pound officer said. "He took us out to the beer store and we bought 10 cases of beer. I asked for some ice to keep the beer cool until night and they sent a truckload of the stuff over."

"CONGO BONGOS"

That night the men in 57th Canadian Signals Squadron had a party.

Mike went over to a wing of the high-tone Athenes Royale private school, where Canadians are billeted, and invited a bunch of Ghananian soldiers living here.

About 20 Ghananians came over and as he started the party off he introduced the Ghananian "gentlemen" to the Canadian "Gongo bongos," as the signalmen have called themselves. The bongos bought the beer for their Commonwealth brothers and sat around swapping soldiers' tales.

Later a British officer who commands a company of Ghananians told a Canadian officer.

"The word has gone around our boys that if any Canadian gets into trouble with the Congolese they're going to step in and start pushing their weight around. You Canadians have been adopted by my troops."

GOOD ALLIES

And the Canadians could have no better friends in the Congo than the tough-looking, well-drilled and smart Ghananian troops. They're the most reassuring sight in Leopoldville, standing —scrubbed down and filled. Other recreation facilities include a track and field layout, tennis courts and a basketball court. The Canadians have started laying out a softball diamond.

DEMOTED BY REQUEST

When the Second World War broke out he was a mess sergeant and bitter because all his friends were getting posted overseas while he stayed behind. So

Four days after his arrival, he reverted back to private. Mike had the school swimming pool—Olympic size, if you please overseas.

In no time at all, Mike was back at his old stand, establishing messes all over England and, later, in Northwest Europe, and instructing bakers, cooks and butchers. He stayed in the army after the war and had various postings in Canada setting up messing services and instructing.

He was at the RCEME school in Kingston, Ont., in January, 1951, when the commanding officer called him in one day and said he had been commissioned a lieutenant.

Kedziora takes his soldiering seriously, but never lets anything worry him. "I always try to take things in the lighter vein," he said.

A HEARTFELT GREETING
Kelowna host and hostess of the National Kinsmen Convention are Yvonne Ponich, Kelowna Kinette president, and Bob Koenig, club president. They are seen here expressing in their smiles the heartfelt feeling behind the welcome sign.

Kelowna Kinsmen Proud Of Their Achievements

On April 13, 1944, 14 young men gathered together in the Canadian Legion Hall, Kelowna, to receive from the then Governor 'Cec. Alton their charter as the Kinsmen Club of Kelowna.

The efforts of four men were culminated at this event. Mac-Jen and Morry Upton, were the spark plugs in the formation of the Kelowna Club, who were helped immeasurably by Honorary President Jim Brownie Sr. Jim Sr. was a tower of strength throughout his six years as honorary president.

The Vernon and Kamloops Kinsmen Clubs were co-sponsors of the Kelowna Club and were of great help in this club's formative years.

Since then, the Kelowna Kinsmen have grown steadily in stature and numbers to become one of the leading service clubs in the district. One of the strongest and most respected clubs in District Five (British Columbia).

Boasting a membership of 45, the club has a long list of accomplishments to its credit, the most worthwhile ones, in the minds of the citizens of this city, being the rehabilitation of the Boy Scout Hall at a cost of about $8,000; Milk for Britain (a wartime project) one of the greatest service projects undertaken by any service club in Canada. Shell Out in the late forties and early fifties, was another successful community enterprise.

There have been rarely less than three or four projects on the active list at any one time, with all the members participating in one way or another. Contributions over the years have been made to Sunnyside, Pleasantvale and many other worthy projects.

The Memorial Room in the Arena, dedicated in 1953, has been a project of great pride to the local club. Strathcona Park enjoyed by hundreds over the past few years was developed and equipped by the citizens of Kelowna through its Kinsmen Club. The Kinsmen Children Ward at the Kelowna General Hospital was another pet project. Still in the late stages of development is Kinsmen Park on Wardlaw Avenue.

The Kelowna Kinsmen Club was the 16th club to receive its charter in District Five. There are today 77 clubs in this district.

Through their district project the Kinsmen Club of Kelowna has contributed immeasurably to the success of the B.C. Child Care and Polio Fund, Mothers March, raising over $20,000 in the past five years.

Many Kinsmen who contributed much to the success of the Kelowna Club left to form the Kelowna Senators Club in 1955. Many other former members are now giving of their time and experience to civic and other organizations.

Chewed, Eaten Or Drunk Dulse Popular In Maritimes

WINDSOR, N.S. (CP)—Dulse—a dry seaweed which some Maritimers chew like candy—brought a puzzled reaction from a United States resident.

Ezra Parsons, president of a service club here, sent a packet of dulse to an American friend he met during a convention in Florida. Unfortunately, Mr. Parsons forgot to enclose an essay he had written about how dulse is properly enjoyed.

From the wife of the American Mr. Parsons received a letter which said: "I fixed it like hot tea the first time, but it was kind of hard to drink. I telephoned a health store and they suggested I drink it like mineral water. Is that right?"

Mr. Parsons, who said he was "grieving" about the use to which the dulse had been put, suggested that unless the woman had acquired a taste for dulse tea she should break the habit because "it sounds awful."

His instructions are that the flavor is brought out by long chewing of the raw dulse.

PREPARING FOR THE 1,300

Among the myriad jobs to be done before the arrival of the 1,300 or so Kinsmen delegates from all parts of Canada, was the preparation of the Memorial Arena. Typifying the spirit in which the work was carried out, Peter Newton here readies the drapes in the arena for the big day today.

'Father' Of The Kinsmen Attends Kelowna Meeting

Harold A. Rogers, OBE, ranks "Kinsman number one" as founder of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs. "Hal" Rogers was born in London, Ontario, Jan. 3, 1899. He enlisted in Argyle Sutherland Highlanders in 1915 and served in France with the 54th Kootenay (B.C.) Battalion. On his return from the war, when he had just turned 20, he was restless for the comradeship he had enjoyed overseas. Encouraged by his father, a prominent Rotarian, he gathered a small group round him determined to perpetuate in peacetime the ideal of service to Canada so recently exemplified by young Canadians during the war years. From this beginning in Hamilton, Ont., in 1920, have grown the 360 Kinsmen clubs with a combined membership of more than 12,000. Mr. Rogers became the first president of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs, and in 1940 was appointed national chairman, Kinsmen War Services. In 1945 he was elected to the presidency of the National Advisory Council of Service Clubs of the Order of the British Empire in 1945.

HAL ROGERS

He was chaired government survey commissions in Ontario and was appointed chairman of the Ontario Government Telephone Authority in 1954.

A SERVICE OF DEDICATION

Most serious part of the Kinsmen Convention was the dedication ceremony this morning, at which the Kinsmen Choir sang Ave Maria, Balm in Gilead and the Lord's Prayer. The dedication address was given by Charles Bruce, and Ken Harding, gave the Kinsmen benediction.

Organ music was played by Tom Austen.

POPULAR LANGUAGE

Hindi is spoken by some 140,000,000 persons, and is the third most popular language in the world after Chinese and English.

A World-Wide Force Lies Behind Kin Objectives

Kinsmen are not alone. They are associated with several other young men's service associations throughout the world, which include Active, Twenty-Third International, Apex and Round Table International. The countries involved include Canada, Mexico, the United States, Central America, Great Britain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland, Netherlands, Belgium, France, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, South Africa, Central Africa and East Africa, Australia, New Zealand and parts of Asia. The above affiliation is called the World Council of Young Men's Service Clubs and has been in existence for 16 years. In essence, World Council is a sincere attempt by young men of five associations to strengthen the bonds on international good-will by individual and collective service to the community based on the free interchange of ideas and discussion.

ROUND ROBINS

Since its inception a program of club bulletin and letter exchange has been set up. Round Robin tapes with many countries are in the offing. The Kinsmen Association assisted financially in the English and Lowland floods a few years back and in turn received help from the others during the Winnipeg floods.

All Associations are now sponsoring children through the Save the Children Fund.

Collectively Kinsmen have sponsored the Chair of Race Relations in the University of Southern Rhodesia at Salisbury.

Kinsmen have taken the initiative in urging the extension of World Refugee Year until all camps are cleared—and removed once and for all from the conscience of man.

No, Kinsmen are not alone, but work together for the improvement of their communities and world brotherhood.

Objectives Of The Association

The constitution of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs sets out its aims as follows: The object of Association shall be to promote and direct fellowship among young men of good character within Canada to the end:

- 1) That they may be improved and educated in modern business and professional methods and ethics.
- 2) That the interest of each in the welfare of his community may be upheld.
- 3) That constitutional authority may be upheld.
- 4) That a spirit of co-operation, tolerance, understanding and equality between all nations and all peoples be fostered and stimulated and that unity of thought and purpose throughout Canada be established towards this goal. 5) That they shall carry on service work within their community.

SINK SHELLS IN OCEAN
KIEL, West Germany (Reuters)—Some 65,000 German nerve gas shells used during the Second World War have been raised from the Baltic Sea near Kiel and sunk in the depths of the Atlantic Ocean this year.

Gov't Teams Scour Tundra For New Mineral Wealth

QUEBEC (CP)—More than 300 persons now travelling the bush for companies engaged in mineral production. Developments are using canoes, helicopters and even snowshoes, but they're not the department's geologists.

They are members of 57 geological teams sent out by the Quebec mines department to test the great Laurentian Shield for indications of new mineral wealth. The parties are searching for deposits of many different minerals, including oil and natural gas, and doing mapping chores. "Almost daily, representatives of mining companies inquire about the results obtained by geological teams," said a mines official. "This provides them with the information they need in order to direct their own exploration work along channels that have already been mapped."

STUDENTS HELP

Nucleus of the expeditions are 26 permanent staff geologists, four university professors and 12 graduate geologists. With them are 188 geology students gaining practical experience in field work, at the same time earning extra cash to help finance next term at university.

Canoemen, pilots, cooks and other help raise the total to about 334.

They are covering 18 separate areas in the province, mostly in the north. But one group is studying mineral indications in the rolling farmland of the Eastern Townships, a few miles southeast of Montreal.

Aircraft, including helicopters, play an important role in movement in the northern bush, but once a party has established a base camp much of the travel is on foot or by canoe.

The snowshoes come into play, even in summer, in such areas as that near Great Whale River on the eastern shore of Hudson Bay, where snow sometimes lingers into August.

The provincial mines department says its survey crews have

BLOSSOM LOUNGE READY FOR GUESTS

Kelowna Kinette Doreen Haworth puts the finishing touches to the sign over the entrance to the Ladies' Blossom Lounge in the Memorial Arena. The Kinettes have worked along with the Kinsmen for two years preparing for the huge convention.

Delegates From Three Continents

In support of their Canadian allies, representatives of young men's associations from three continents have travelled to Kelowna to take part in the Kinsmen National Convention.

Although Kinsmen are a purely Canadian association and one of their major policy decisions never to form up with similar organizations outside Canada, kinsmen are associated with young men's groups the world over.

In this way, aid in such emergencies as the Frelus Dam disaster can be speeded to the victims. The representatives from abroad include Eric Bliss from Carlisle, England; John Stokes from Australia; Jack Fleischmann of the U.S.A., and Per Sjorgen of Norway.

OFFICES NEAR TOWER
LONDON (AP)—A 12-storey office building is to challenge the Tower of London's 900-year dominance over the tiled roofs of the east end. The housing ministry approved plans for the building, close to the tower, despite protests that it will overshadow the grey turrets of London's most famous landmark.

BLOOD DONATIONS
SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—George Roy, 41-year-old Calgary Commission dispatcher, has given 75 blood donations to the Red Cross blood clinic here.

These delegates are members of the World Council of Kin, which was formed so that the Canadian organization can aid—and seek aid—of its counterparts across the world.

SCHOOL COSTS SOAR

CALGARY (CP)—Representatives of six Alberta cities were told Wednesday to expect a sharp increase in education costs by 1965, and agreed 90 per cent of the bill should be borne by the provincial government. If representatives and their councils agree, a report submitted by Calgary Commissioner Dudley Batchelor will become the basis of a brief to be submitted to the provincial government.

Much Accomplished So Far In Local Kinettes' History

The Kinette Club of Kelowna officially came into existence on November 9, 1948, with the formal installation of the first executive in the Scout Hall by Governor Arthur Jackson, with Mrs. Arthur Jackson as the charter president. These years have brought a record of achievement in community and service work of which the club may well be proud.

The purpose of this club was to form an auxiliary to help the Kinsmen in their service work and aid in understanding and fellowship of their members.

It was a great satisfaction to the club to realize how much their services were needed and appreciated. Helping the Kinsmen with the annual "Hallowe'en Shell-out", the children's Christmas party, contributing clothing etc. to the children's ward in the hospital; working in the Regatta midway kept the club active and busy.

However as the city grew so did the activities of this club. The year 1951 saw the first big convention to be held in this city and in no small measure helped to establish it as a "convention city" in future years.

It was for this successful convention that the now famous Kinette Choir under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas Hill was inaugurated.

WORTHY PROJECT
When the original Sunnyvale School came into being, the Kinettes took on the complete furnishings of the kitchen including a stove and refrigerator, and are still working for this worthy project.

Other outstanding achievements of this club are six new layettes to the welfare office each year, the distribution of 12 hampers to needy families at the Christmas, assisting the Kinsmen in the annual Mothers' March on Polio and Child Care aided by local mothers assisting in the clinics for polio inoculations and also the hearing clinics sponsored by the Kinsmen. Many miscellaneous requests for help come to the attention of the Kinettes during the year and a cheque for $15 to their adoptee, wherever possible the club tries to fulfill these requests.

KINETTE PRESIDENT PONICH

here and after two years of work in preparing for this huge event along with the Kinsmen, they feel content that all is prepared to welcome their 1300 or more guests to this fair city.

LONG BRIDGE

The two-year-old bridge across the Mackinac Straits in Michi- sion span in the world.

JOINING A KINSMEN CLUB AN AID TO SHY SPEAKERS

Aside from all the obvious benefits to society at large, the Kinsmen Association has many advantages for its members.

Not the least of these is the golden opportunity Kinsmen Clubs afford shy speakers who want to overcome their shyness in addressing the public.

A young man, who finds he has to talk among friends can overcome his drawback in the warmth of fellowship. And from there the rest is easy.

ATTRACTIVE DECOR
HALIFAX (CP)—Designers of the $5,000,000 extension to the Nova Scotian hotel here kept the planned interior decorations. Colours are almost all of maritime twinge—sand beige, sea green, in the floor boards.

DISAPPEARING ACT

LONDON (CP)—A woman giving evidence in a suburban Wimbledon court suddenly disappeared from view behind the witness box. Her stiletto-heeled shoes had gone through a crack in the floor boards.

TOLL OF A GREAT EFFORT

OLYMPIC ROUNDUP

Russia Retains Small Lead - Team Championship Race

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
ROME (CP)—Russia matched the United States gold medal for gold in Wednesday's Olympic team championship race in the 10-5-4-3-2-1 scoring system for the first six positions in each event.

The Russians had 503 points and the U.S. 484½, but the Americans had won 30 gold medals to Russia's 28 since the start of the current games.

Canada picked up two points for a fifth in yachting Wednesday and its first point in track and field for a sixth-placing to increase its point-total to 35 based on the 10-5-4-3-2-1 scoring system for the first six positions in each event.

The Russians lost their point temporarily Wednesday when the Americans came through with gold medal triumphs in the men's discus and pole vault, a yachting competition and a weightlifting division.

But then the Russians picked up 10 points for the weightlifting victory and 19 points in the gymnastics, including 10 from a gold medal. A yachting victory and a triumph in the women's 800-metre run accounted for two Russian gold medals earlier.

Evelyn Mincey won Russia's fourth gold medal in the Wednesday program when he outlifted American Isaac Berger in a duel for the featherweight weightlifting championship.

The Russian lifted a total of 221 pounds to equal Berger's New Zealand won the world mark and smash the 5,000-metre run last Friday; Eu-American's 1956 Olympic record runner champion Zdzislaw Krzyzowski broke his Polish teammate Kazimierz Zimny; Kenya's Annetta Arere, and Briton Gordon Pirie.

With four days of competition remaining, the American began Wednesday's program 28 points behind the leading Russians. Then Al Oerter, the defending Olympic champion, cracked his own mark in the discus throw with a heave of 194 feet, two inches to lead an all-American sweep of the gold, silver and bronze medals awarded for the first three places. Earlier, the Americans took all the medals in the men's 110-metre and 400-metre hurdles and the men's shot put.

Don Bragg followed by leading a one-two American finish in the pole vault with a winning height of 13 feet, 5½ inches to become the first 15-foot vaulter in Olympic history. Teammate Ron Morris also topped 15 feet—by 1½ inches. Both broke the 1956 Olympic record of 14 feet, 11½ inches set by Bob Richards who won the event for the U.S. in '52 and '56.

The American gold medal in yachting came in the 5½ metre class. Russia won its yachting gold in the star class.

Canada's first point in track and field came in the 50-kilometre (31¼-mile) walk. Alex Oakley of Oshawa, Ont., finished sixth in the event won by Don Thompson who made Britain's first track and field triumph a record-breaking one. Thompson's time was an Olympic record of four hours, 25 minutes and 30 seconds. Oakley was clocked in the best time of his career and the best time ever for a Canadian—4:33:08.6.

The final of the men's 400 was scheduled for this afternoon.

The 10,000-metre run final, in which Doug Kyle of Calgary was entered, appeared to be a wide open event with the experts

San Diego capped its scoring with a five-run sixth inning. Joe Hicks' triple and a double by pitcher Ed Hobaugh were the big hits. Tacoma threatened with three runs in the eighth, but reliever Don Ferrarese took over to retire the side. The victory evened Hobaugh's record at 11-11.

Sloppy fielding led to five errors in the Portland-Vancouver game and only three of the nine extra-inning runs scored in the extra-inning game were earned. Triples by Bill Skowron and Walter Bill Skowron's double—play 4-3-5—and rally starter, had battered the Cards with a 6-5, 11-inning victory over San Francisco. Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 4-3 in 15 innings, blanking the Sox without a hit for 2 1-3 innings in relief of Whitely Ford.

National League

There's no panic in Pittsburgh, but there's still the question: can the Pirates do it without Dick Groat?

Playing their first game without the sparkling shortstop, sidearm pitcher Vern Law—the Pirates lost a 2-1 decision to the second-place St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night.

That left the Bucs with a still healthy six-game bulge and 20 games to play in a bid for their first National League pennant in 33 years.

The Cards wound up their season's series against the Pirates with an 11-11 split by beating 19-game winner Vern Law—the big right-hander who had whipped them five times this year and 11 times in a row since June, 1958.

NEED GROT AT BAT

Consider, too, that the man in Groat's No. 2 spot in the batting order twice left runners stranded in a game lost by one run.

Liston Leading Contender After Fight With Machen

SEATTLE (AP)—Sonny Liston man behind heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson. Weighing 211 pounds to Machen's 196, Liston pursued the agile Machen for 12 rounds Wednesday night and caught up just often enough to score a unanimous, but close, decision.

"Couldn't do anything. He was running," grunted Liston. He landed a few good jabs, hit Machen high on the head, on both arms and a couple of times below the belt. One of these underhand punches dropped Machen to his knees in the 11th and the referee took the round away from Liston. He also gave Machen a minute of mid-round rest. This was the only time either fighter was on the canvas.

Machen landed a few solid lefts but spent most of his time circling away from the plodding Liston. Machen said after the fight he did not throw a right because he strained the ligaments in his arm while sparring with Bill Besmanoff in training. The poker-faced Liston, who had said he didn't expect it to go the distance, called it a poor fight. "Take two to make a fight," he said. "Machen wouldn't."

The crowd for the outdoor fight was 7,682 and the gate $52,660. The selection take pushed this above $100,000.

Whitby Arrives For Minto Cup Boxla Series

By BOB TRIMBLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—It's early to bed and early to rise for Whitby Red Wings of the Ontario Lacrosse Association as they prepare for the opener of the best-of-seven Minto Cup Canadian junior lacrosse championship.

The Eastern champions rolled in here early Wednesday morning, broke out for a one-hour limbering workout, then hit the sack early for their first good night's sleep in four days.

Today the speedy Red Wings will hold another hour-long workout before meeting the favored New Westminster Salmonbellies in the series opener at night.

It's the first Minto Cup appearance for Whitby, organized three seasons ago, the second straight for Salmonbellies, who have lost but one league game since 1957.

Second game is set for Saturday, the third next Tuesday and the fourth next Thursday. If necessary the remainder of the series will be played Sept. 18, 19 and 20. The first five games will be played in the 5,000-seat Queen's Park Arena here, with the sixth and seventh at the 2,700-seat Vancouver Kerrisdale Arena.

WINGS AT DISADVANTAGE
With Whitby obviously under pressure from the long train ride, playing under Western rules before a partisan New Westminster crowd and on a wooden rather than hard-surface floor, they enter the opener decided underdogs.

"We'll be happy to win one of the first three games," said Whitby coach Bev Grodes. "It will take us at least four days to acclimate ourselves to the climate, floor conditions, new rules, and get over the long train ride."

"But we're a team that can come back and the longer this series goes the better our chances."

Replay replacements normally are barred.

Ohlmann ran Wednesday with Canada's 1,600-metre relay team, which was eliminated in a semi-final heat.

By CHARLES E. GIORDANO

(Courier Sports Editor)

If the enthusiasm displayed at Wednesday night's meeting is any sign, the 1960-61 basketball season in Kelowna should show a complete welcomed change from the past few years.

In fact it could be the start of a big comeback for a sport that once dominated the west and still sits in the upper bracket below the border.

The meeting place was only a small one but it was jammed to the doors with eager cage-batters ready to help put the exciting game back on its feet.

And actually, the reports turned in from last season, which was a poor one spectator-wise, weren't too bad at all.

They stated that a total of $1,107 was taken in at the gate.

After all expenses were taken care of there was $117 left to but it is said there will be several top-name players trying out.

It might be noted that of this $1,107 the Women's B.C. and Dominion championships accounted for some $700. Included in last season's expenses was $150 put towards a new clock for the gymnasium.

NEW EXECUTIVE

The big concern now, however, is to rejuvenate the sport, heading the Association that will be out to do just that is Bob Hall.

Others elected to the executive were: Peter Bulatovich, vice-president; Marg Fielder, secretary; and Bill Dean, treasurer.

Tentative arrangements are that the season will open October 15 with exhibition games between Teddy Bears and Richmond Senior A women and Kelowna Royalites and Alberni Athletics, Canadian finalists.

All members voted strongly to enter an international league, when and if such a loop is formed. This league would comprise teams from Kelowna, Penticton, Omak, Oroville, and Brewster.

INTERNATIONAL LOOP

The final decision on this league will be brought down shortly at a meeting of the Interior Basketball Association, which has already written each of the U.S. teams concerned.

It has not yet been decided what will be Kelowna and Penticton's move if the International league is not organized, although there is strong possibility it will be.

The new local body will swing into action almost immediately setting up local games with several U.S. and other Canadian teams.

Bob Hall, coach of the Canadian Senior B champion Meikie Teddy Bears, said he will be out to build another contending team.

Hall said he has lost some of his top players from last season but still has a strong squad lineup, which will include a few new faces.

Nothing has been divulged concerning the men's senior team

but it is said there will be several top-name players trying out.

SEASON TICKETS

Also to be introduced this year is a season ticket plan which will enable fans to attend 20 games at a "quite reasonable" sum.

All games will be held Saturday nights with possibly two to three fixtures staged each time. "Special" entertainment will fill in the half-time gaps.

Kelowna high school gymnasium will again be used for all games.

Also talked of at the meeting was the possible forming of a minor league. This will be decided on at a later date.

Harry Jerome Re-Injures Leg; Out Of Action

ROME (CP)—Harry Jerome of Vancouver re-injured his leg today while running in a heat of the men's 400-metre Olympic relay and will not be able to run in the semi-final Thursday.

Canada's relay foursome placed second in a heat Wednesday behind the United States.

Jerome obviously was not up to form. The Vancouver sprinter, co-holder of the world record of 10 seconds for 100 metres with Germany's Armin Hary, suffered a muscle spasm in the semi-final of the Olympic 100 last week, pulling up lame.

Reappearance of Jerome's injury Wednesday posed a problem for track coach Harold Brown of Toronto.

Brown said he hopes to substitute Sig Ohlmann of Vancouver but special permission will have to be obtained from the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

Replay replacements normally are barred.

Ohlmann ran Wednesday with Canada's 1,600-metre relay team, which was eliminated in a semi-final heat.

Yanks Half Tilt From Top After Taking Chisox 6-4

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Pinch hitters had been such a flop for New York Yankees that they went out looking for help. But a couple of guys they had all along — Yogi Berra and Johnny Blanchard—delivered in the clutch and put the Yankees within a half game of the American League lead.

After an error loaded the bases, Berra and Blanchard each slammed two runs across with pinch hits as the Yankees came from behind in a four-run eighth inning and defeated Chicago White Sox 6-4 Wednesday night.

It was only the third victory in eight games for the Yankees, who recently bought Dale Long from San Francisco of the National League for pinch-hit help.

Meanwhile the first-place Orioles lost 3-2 at Cleveland, Washington beat Kansas City 5-3 and Boston rallied for a 5-4 victory over Detroit.

BOBBLES GROUND
The Yankees, down 4-1 after the first two innings, rallied in the seventh, got rolling when Sammy Esposito booted Groat, the Bucs' top batsman.

Then consider the fact that Groat, the Bucs' top batsman, hit for 2 1-3 innings in relief of Whitely Ford.

"Tragedy" Seen If Belgian Doctors Not Allowed To Return To Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (CP)—Dr. Philip Edwards, known for his Olympic Games Montreal estimates it will take performances some years ago as 10 to 15 years before the Congo can handle its own medical and public health problems.

The raw materials to achieve this goal are here: Modern hospitals with facilities almost equal to those of great medical centres; lots of equipment and drugs; intelligent medical assistants who work well within the scope of their limited medical knowledge; modern universities. All the Congo needs now is an educational program for Congolese doctors.

"The Belgian Congo lagged badly behind in educational facilities for the Congolese," he said in an interview. "That is the crux of the whole present crisis."

FORMER TRACK STAR

Dr. Edwards, born in British Columbia of mixed Negro, Indian

When the Congo became independent July 1, the country had ample equipment and medical supplies and Belgian doctors "of some considerable stature" to run the medical and public health services.

The flight of the Belgians during the national army's revolt against its white officers left a vacuum which the Congolese themselves could not fill.

SKELETON STAFFS

"It's going to take years to rebuild and develop the capabilities of the Congo," Dr. Edwards said. "It's useless from a health standpoint to have all this equipment and drugs with only skeleton staffs to maintain a minimum standard of health."

Dr. Edwards' assignment at Coquilhatville includes running a surgical clinic in the mornings and visiting an 800-bed leprosy hospital at Iyonda, about eight miles out of town, in the afternoons.

His Congolese medical assistants, the highest medical rank to which they could aspire under Belgian colonial rule, know how to help but their knowledge is limited and they need expert direction.

"Certainly," he said, "they are unable to cope with emergencies, such as might develop here where the basic foundations for epidemics are ever-present in water supplies."

"If public health measures are not maintained it's obvious epidemics would develop."

New Zealand Can't Keep Maoris Down On The Farm

WELLINGTON (Reuters)—The Maori, who once owned the whole of New Zealand, has created problems in some areas by walking off the land remaining in his ownership.

So serious has this problem become in the far north that the government has instituted an inquiry into the causes. The evidence of this inquiry shows that sweeping reforms are needed if the Maori is to continue to be a successful farmer.

Facts put before the inquiry indicated the greatest single problem to be solved was the complicated ownership of land.

The Maori has proved he can be a successful farmer if given the training to manage his land and the finance required to develop it.

The Maori affairs department has been providing help in both these directions. In three districts

Big Game Tuna Fishing Reviving In Nova Scotia

METEGHAN, N.S. (CP) - A bunch of fishing enthusiasts, some of whom may never have hooked anything bigger than a three-foot eel, may spark a revival of big game tuna fishing in Nova Scotia waters.

The Lions Club in this small town is holding a tuna tournament Sept. 4 and 5. Members of 11 Lions Clubs in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have been invited to compete.

How the amateurs fare will be watched closely by provincial fisheries officials and directors of the dormant International Tuna Cup classic, usually held at Wedgeport, N.S.

Trade and Industry Minister E. A. Manson, chairman of the tuna cup match board of directors, calls the service club's venture "a forward step." He indicated the directors will closely follow the new competition and will probably use it as a gauge in deciding at a meeting in New York in January whether to revive the international competition next fall.

NOT A NIBBLE

The last International Cup contest at Wedgeport in 1958 was a flop when anglers representing the Commonwealth, United States, Mexico and Cuba didn't get a nibble. It seemed the tuna had deserted the normally prolific sports fishing grounds of Soldier's Rip and Lobster Bay, so the annual tournament was suspended. The Sharp Trophy went into mothballs as temporary property of the Nova Scotia government.

Now anglers in Meteghan, 33 miles northwest of Wedgeport, and of nearby Cape St. Mary are confident they can land the elusive bluefin. Sportsmen last year hauled in 80 tuna in these waters, compared with eight hooked by tourist anglers off Wedgeport.

There is evidence that tuna have swarmed off Cape St. Mary as long as its Acadian residents can remember.

If the service club tournament and the annual Intercollegiate seminar to be held a week later at Wedgeport are a success, perhaps the big leagues will be back in 1961. Frank Jubb, president of the Meteghan Lions Club, says his district doesn't want to steal Wedgeport's tournament glory but adds: "We'd be happy to accommo-

Virus Of Chickenpox Is Related To Shingles

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Autumn usually means an increase in reports of herpes zoster. You'll probably recognize the disease by its more common name, shingles.

It might be a bit difficult to imagine any relationship between shingles and chickenpox, but there is.

CAUSED BY VIRUS

Both are caused by a virus and the one that causes shingles is closely related to that which causes chickenpox.

The shingles virus affects the nervous system and first causes pain and then a rash of blisters to appear on the skin along the course of various nerves.

AFFECTS OLDER PERSONS

The disease is usually found in persons over the age of 50, although it sometimes develops in considerably younger individuals. Men are bothered by shingles more often than are women.

The early symptoms of shingles are fairly common to many diseases.

CHILLS AND FEVER

Three or four days before the rash appears, you may notice chills, have a feeling of weakness and, perhaps a slight fever.

Your stomach and bowels may be upset, too.

Along about the fourth or fifth day, you will notice development of the rash of blisters surrounded by red skin.

About five days after the rash occurs, the blisters will begin to drop off and scabs will form.

Unfortunately, however, clearing of the rash does not necessarily mean that your troubles are behind you.

PAIN MAY PERSIST

Pain may persist for months or even years after the rash has disappeared. In cases in which this happens, the patient is almost always an older person.

Most patients, however, recover without after-effects. In some cases there may be minor scarring of the skin, but this occurs infrequently.

LASTING PROTECTION

The best thing about shingles is that one attack usually protects you from any future attack, just like one case of chickenpox protects you from another siege.

As a matter of fact, most persons who come down with shingles already have had chickenpox. It seems as though the chickenpox virus causes shingles in those who have had chickenpox and are exposed to the disease for the second time.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

An all around good day! Most persons will be congenial, and there is indication of some good news from afar. During the P.M., financial and property matters will be under fine aspects, and it will also be a good period in which to deal with superiors.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that you can achieve a great deal during this next year of your life. You are currently in a somewhat dull cycle where both business and personal matters are concerned but, as of November, your prospects become more than generous. Along business lines, all matters concerned with property and real estate take a definitely upward swing and, in your private life, romance, and the possibility of sudden marriage are indicated in November; also in mid-1961.

Good opportunities for travel are indicated in early June, late July and early August. Home and domestic affairs should run smoothly for most of the year.

ahead—except for a brief period this month—and the end of 1960 will bring planetary influences which, lasting well into 1961, should boost your job and economic status tremendously. Do make the most of opportunities then—especially if you have a chance to launch new, but sound ventures.

date any tournament but we're not pressing. We are anxious only to prove that Nova Scotia has tuna every year."

NEWFOUNDLAND BID

Newfoundland, which has also made overtures as a possible new tournament site, has reported only one sports tuna match this season.

Off Wedgeport, anglers boasted three tuna by Aug. 26, and off

Meteghan-Cape St. Mary they chalked up 25 by the same date. But this is small fry compared with the 1949 boom when sportsmen landed 1,700 bluefin tuna for a total weight of 450,000 pounds. Five teams competing in the 1949 tuna cup match muscled 72 fish aboard their boats, 29 in one day. Twenty-five boats were rigged for the bluefin hunt 10 years ago, compared with only nine that are maintained today for this purpose.

Bookings for boats used to be made well in advance at a $50 a day rental and accommodation in the area was filled to overflowing. Many anglers found lodgings in tourist camps and hotels 100 miles away, then headed out at 2 a.m. for the daily fishing.

The fall-off in tuna of the last few years has meant a loss of festivals in the streets each between an estimated $100,000 year.

and $150,000 in the Wedgeport district's economy. Lewis Foster, chief of the Wedgeport Tuna Guides Association, now has instructions to telephone or wire "when they're biting."

Canada's Job Problem Challenge, Jodoin Says

OTTAWA (CP) — A "great holiday is observed to honor the men and women who with year-round unemployment, labor for a living," he said. "I would suggest that Labor Day, 1960, is a day on which we should dedicate ourselves to giving every Canadian the opportunity to labor for a living."

The president of the 1,000-member Canadian Labor Congress pointed to "new evidence" that some employers want to adopt a "let's-push-labor-around" attitude.

If such a course is followed, he added, the results will be "unfortunate."

He said "such a negative policy" will make no contribution to a better Canada but will rather interfere with the kind of co-operation between labor and management that is essential to the future.

"This may be an appropriate time to make the position of the Canadian Labor Congress clear," he said.

"We are prepared and able to meet the challenges which we, as Canadians, face in common. If, on the other hand, there are to be efforts to undercut the standards established democratically the responsibility for the conflict which will inevitably follow will rest on those who initiated it."

"But more recently we have been experiencing conditions in which the toll of unemployment spreads into the warmer months and for a great many people is a year-round threat."

"Most of us can recall the days in which the country's whole economy slowed down and thousands of men and women waited in line for jobs. Today the economy of our country continues to operate at a high level, production is well up—and yet, at the same time, we have hundreds of thousands of men and women deprived of their right to work."

Estimating the "waste" from unemployment at about $3,000,000,000, Mr. Jodoin said there are "vast unmet needs" across Canada—schools, hospitals, parks, roads, reasonable housing.

Ontario City's Traffic Clinic Builds Up Impressive Record

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP) — Chatham's traffic clinic, an institution that has already helped more than 1,000 motorists safeguard their privilege to drive, is starting its fourth year of operation.

Established in September, 1957, at the suggestion of Ontario Attorney General Kelso Roberts, the clinic has built up an impressive record.

Magistrate Ivan B. Craig, who led in formation of the project, says it has had "a terrific impact" on the motoring public of Chatham and Kent County.

"It was opened originally for traffic violators but now is also attended by many motorists and learners who have heard of its benefits."

"The clinic has been very successful," said Magistrate Craig. "The great majority of people who attend recognize their mistakes. Rarely do they appear in court, again for traffic violations."

Traffic Sgt. Ted Willmore, who with Cpl. Alex Mason of the provincial police conducts the clinic sessions twice a month, said: "More than 1,000 men and women have attended the clinic since it was opened three years ago. Only two have come back for more help."

Sgt. Willmore estimates that between 30 and 40 "volunteers" attend each month, including boys and girls planning to apply for their first driver's licence.

"Many youngsters come to the clinic before applying for a licence, and others come on the recommendation of the examiners," said Police Chief Clarence Bagnall.

Attendance involves two hours at the clinic twice a month, in the evenings of the second and third Tuesdays.

The first session includes brief lectures on today's traffic problems, traffic laws, the rules of the road and the importance of

New "Outlaws" In Sherwood Forest

NOTTINGHAM, England (CP) — A new breed of outlaws is threatening Sherwood Forest, long the haunt of Robin Hood and his merry men.

Like the outlaws who used to plague the sheriff of Nottingham, the new intruders are dressed in green. But it's doubtful whether they're worried about robbing the rich to help the poor.

They are only about half an inch long, but in a few months they can strip a forest of pine needles and leave the trees in bad shape. For the new invader is a caterpillar, called the pine looper.

Britain's forestry commission is spending thousands of pounds trying to exterminate the pests. Spraying operations now are being carried out by aircraft, dousing the forest's 3,000 acres with quick-killing chemicals.

Shipments of peat moss by Canadian producers in 1959 amounted to 181,100 tons, 250 per cent more than the 1950 tonnage.
